
HU PRESIDENT MESSAGE

It is a privilege to lead such an outstanding higher education institute. Helwan university is a distinguished university that encompasses some of the oldest and most unique faculties in Egypt and the Middle East. The faculty of Applied Arts, for example, was established in 1839, while the faculty of Fine Arts and Art Education were established in 1908 and 1936, respectively. Our faculty of Music Education is a second to none in the Middle east among other 23 faculties scattered all over Cairo.

Our programs prepare students for jobs in both regional and international economy, while all our diversified majors provide Helwan University students with the skills needed to develop problem solving, critical thinking, teamwork, and effective communication among other skills increasingly required by the job market.

The student is the key person in our campus. In the spirit of this value, Helwan university uses its reasonable efforts to provide a comprehensive academic experience to its students. In so doing, we create opportunities and inspire students to achieve their goals either through the academic offerings or through providing opportunities for international academic mobility.

Guided by the country research plan, one of our targeted commitments is to cultivate a rich student experience and driving widespread impact. This as well as necessitates prioritizing people, connecting communities, driving innovation, matching strengths with opportunities to leverage our research capacity to its fullest extent.
